THE SILENT ROADS CAST AND BETA ANNOUNCED

(New York, New York) Lonely Adventures are proud to announce the cast and demo for upcoming post-apocalyptic rogue combat game, The Silent Roads. Directed and cast by Brittany Lauda, the cast includes some of the finest anime and game talent in the New York area, with cast members recognizable from popular franchises including Pokemon, YuGiOh, Sonic the Hedgehog, Grand Theft Auto and more.

Kickstarted with additional funding from Image Campus, The Silent Roads team hopes to serve up an experience the FTL and Fallout fans will enjoy. Features will include free will, turn based combat switchable to real time, day/night cycles, algorithmic AI and their own secret sauce of sorts. Julian Bersano, representative of the company, is excited for what the first region of the game has to offer. In regards to voice over, Bersano expressed his excitement for the games voice over features, stating “The voice over really helps bring the game to life”. He further applauded the cast for their performances and Lauda’s skills as a director.
